DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's arguments and amendment are convincing regarding new matter and the rejections over Shear in view of Allen's teaching of a one-way communication.
2. The newly added claims prompted a review of the parent case and its claims, new rejections regarding improper recapture follow.

Improper Recapture

3. Claims 8-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 251 as being an improper recapture of broadened claimed subject matter surrendered in the application for the patent upon which the present reissue is based. See Hester Industries, Inc. v. Stein, Inc., 142 F.3d 1472, 46 USPQ2d 1641 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Clement, 131 F.3d 1464, 45 USPQ2d 1161 (Fed. Cir. 1997); Ball Corp. v. United States, 729 F.2d 1429, 1436, 221 USPQ 289, 295 (Fed. Cir. 1984). A broadening aspect is present in the reissue which was not present in the application for patent. The record of the application for the patent shows that the broadening aspect (in the reissue) relates to subject matter that applicant previously surrendered during the prosecution of the application. Accordingly, the narrow scope of the claims in the patent was not an error within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 251, and the broader scope surrendered in the application for the patent cannot be recaptured by the filing of the present reissue application.

Specifically, the "software management means for decoding encrypted software data and for managing monetary charges according to the usage of the software data", were argued by applicant as the distinguishing features of the claims in amendment C, filed 8 December 1997, of the parent application, and therefore constitute improper recapture.

Art Unit: 3629

Reissue Applications

4. The original patent, or an affidavit or declaration as to loss or inaccessibility of the original patent, must be received before this reissue application can be allowed.

See 37 CFR 1.178.

Oath/Declaration

5. The oath or declaration is defective. A new oath or declaration in compliance with 37 CFR 1.67(a) identifying this application by application number and filing date is required. See MPEP §§ 602.01 and 602.02.

The oath or declaration is defective because:

a. It does not state whether the inventor is a sole or joint inventor of the invention claimed.

b. The nature of the defect(s) in the declaration is that the error set forth as the basis for the Reissue application is based on improper recapture. Specifically, the "input switchover" and "output switchover", argued as the error which forms the basis for the reissue application, were added to the original claims and argued by applicant as the distinguishing features of the claims in both amendments B, filed 6 May 1997, and C, filed 8 December 1997, of the parent application. Therefore, correction constitutes improper recapture and cannot form the basis of a reissue application.

6. Claims 1-23 are rejected as being based upon a defective reissue declaration under 35 U.S.C. 251 as set forth above. See 37 CFR 1.175.

Prior Art Made of Record

Art Unit: 3629

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

JP 07-105284 to Yoko et al, submitted by applicant.

Japanese office action for application Hei 6-219364 is the closest non-patent literature.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 1-7 are allowable.
9. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowability:

As per Claims 1, 4, 6, 7.

The prior art of record, specifically, Arnold et al (176) in view of Hartman Jr ('166) does not disclose:

a software management means for decoding encrypted software data and for managing monetary charges according to the usage of the software data; and output switchover means for receiving encrypted data from said input switchover means and outputting the encrypted data to said software management means, and for receiving non-encrypted software data from said input switchover means and outputting the non-encrypted software data to said data conversion section as claimed, but remain rejected to under 35 U.S.C. 251 as set forth above. See 37 CFR 1.175.

Claims 8, 12, 23, 24, 28, 39.

The prior art of record, specifically Shear ('598) in view of Allen ('713) do not disclose a switch means for switching a one-way connection between said digital information receiving means and said information converting means, said digital information receiving means and said drive means, and said drive means and said information converting means, as claimed.

Claims 16, 21, 22, 32, 37, 38.

The prior art of record, specifically Shear ('598) in view of Allen ('713) do not disclose first, second and third switches for switching a one-way connection between said digital information receiving means and said information converting means, said digital information receiving means and said drive means, and said drive means and said information converting means, as claimed.

Claims 20.

The prior art of record, specifically Shear ('598) in view of Allen ('713) do not disclose first, second, third and fourth switches for switching a one-way connection between said digital information receiving means and said information converting means, said digital information receiving means and said drive means, and said drive means and said information converting means, as claimed.

Claims 36.

The prior art of record, specifically Shear ('598) in view of Allen ('713) do not disclose first, second, third, fourth and fifth switches for switching a one-way connection between said digital information receiving means and said information converting means, said digital information receiving means and said drive means, and said drive means and said information converting means, as claimed.

The claims that depend from the above allowable claims are allowable for the same reasons.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
